

ART CANADA INSTITUTE | INSTITUT DE L'ART CANADIEN

WISHING YOU A SAFE AND HAPPY SUMMER BREAK

School is nearly finished, and after such an extraordinary year, we're looking forward to a relaxing summer. Beloved Nova Scotia folk artist Maud Lewis (1901–1970) captures the unique charm of the season in her enchanting scenes, in which time slows down, the sun shines bright, and delightful elation is ever-present. After a tremendous year of challenge, innovation, and perseverance, we hope you have plans for a break over the summer months. If you are looking for a little inspiration for next year, you can access our virtual library of education resources here. And remember, there is still time to submit student art works to the Canadian Art Inspiration Contest: the deadline is June 30th. From all of us at the Art Canada Institute Education Program, we wish you a safe, restful, and re-energizing summer, and we look forward to connecting with you in the fall.

As a bilingual organization, we are proud to offer our materials in both French and English, including this newsletter. Use the sign up links below to receive emails in your preferred language.

About the Art Canada Institute

Launched in 2013, the Art Canada Institute is the only national institution whose mandate is to promote the study of an inclusive multi-vocal Canadian art history to as broad an audience as possible, in both English and French, within Canada and internationally. The ACI works with more than fifty of Canada's leading art historians, curators, and visual culture experts who are dedicated to the creation of authoritative original content on the people, themes, and topics that have defined Canadian art history.

We are creating a central digital resource to tell the world about Canada's most important works of art and where they are located. By functioning as an online art museum, a digital library, and an interactive Canadian art encyclopedia, the ACI is an indispensable resource on Canada's visual heritage.
